

Teaching Philosophy

The Taylor Studio is committed to creating an engaging & supportive learning environment in which each student is able to reach his/her full potential. I believe that each student is unique, and that there is no "one size fits all" approach to learning music.

I encourage you, as parents, to be involved in the learning process. You are welcome to sit in on lessons at any time and I am happy to spend the last few minutes of each lesson going over new information or discussing any concerns that you may have.

About the Teacher

Kristen Taylor holds a Bachelor of Music degree in Music Education and Piano Performance from the University of Iowa. She has worked in both public schools and private studios as a general music teacher, band director, and private piano teacher. Kristen has served as the musical director for student productions of Annie and You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown.

When not at the piano, Kristen is enjoying her time as mom to her two young children and trying to convince her sports obsessed husband that the remote DOES go to channels other than ESPN.

Benefits of Music Study

Studying music teaches your child more than just how to play an instrument and read music.

Students who study music learn:

- 🎵 Self-discipline
- 🎵 Goal Setting
- 🎵 Time Management
- 🎵 The value of hard work & determination

Research shows that students who study music*:

- 🎵 have improved memory skills over their non-music peers
- 🎵 score higher on standardized tests
- 🎵 perform better on the SAT
- 🎵 have higher graduation rates

*information obtained from MENC.org
